

Pharmacy in the Media

Susan O'Dwyer, Head of Professional Services of the IPU, was quoted in a comprehensive article in the Irish Independent highlighting the crucial role for pharmacists in a health system that is facing capacity issues.

Susan was also on RTE's Drivetime Programme where she was interviewed about the UK medicine regulator looking into possibly putting certain cough syrups on prescription due to codeine content. Please listen here.

The Donegal Daily covered a story highlighting that Donegal Pharmacists welcome the support of T.D. Thomas Pringle for our fair fees campaign. Please see here.
